BOOKS FOR EXPLORERS

What to do with odd moments on one of the world's greatest organized adventures was a question that confronted the leaders of the Byrd Antarctic expedition. "Reading," was the answer, and thereupon came one of those chances that are so often imagined—"the ten books I would choose for a desert library" and other lists that are chosen for imaginary isolations.

Here was just such an opportunity and the library was to consist of 1,000 volumes. They were duly chosen and are now on their way to the base of supplies at New Zealand but what selections were made? What books were felt to be of value for two years' separation from the world of people and events.

Fiction predominated, with volumes of spirited adventure much in evidence. The manly and vigorous tales of Stevenson, Dumas, Conrad, Cooper and Kipling were especially popular. All the works of Shakespeare, however, were included; and there were the Greek and Latin classics packed together with "Casey at the Bat" and the appropriate "Snowbound" of Whittier.

There were volumes of history, science, politics, and philosophy by moderns and ancients. "The Best Rube Jokes" appear side by side with "The Psychology of Suicide," and the "Adventure of Baron Munchausen."

It is interesting now to know what books have been selected as the companions of these adventurers, but it is far more interesting to speculate upon which books will be read and reread while others are comparatively neglected. Will the men go strongly for the robust tales of romance where heroes are whisked from one danger into another with breathless rapidity, or will these men who are themselves participating in a great adventure turn to the quiet calm of philosophy and reason? It would probably seem rather tame for the men who are daily confronted with genuine dangers to bother about imaginary ones. Their relief would probably come in humor or in thought.

TAXING THE MOTORIST

In view of the fact that the memberships of both organizations are made up of automobile owners it seems a little strange that the Ohio State Automobile association and the Ohio Good Roads federation should think differently on the question of raising or lowering automobile license fees.

The automobile association, contending that the gasoline tax provides sufficient revenue for highway improvement needs, wants a flat license rate of $1. The federation argues that there is not enough money to carry on the state's road program and that the license fees should be increased by $5 to provide the additional funds needed.

When the legislature takes up this question it will be guided, at least in part, by the appropriation requests of the highway department. Then it will be learned whether the department's revenues are adequate. Until that time motorists will not know what to believe for they have no way of ascertaining for themselves which of the two organizations is right.

Ohio's gasoline tax is as high as the rates in force in other large states but its automobile license fees are lower. The $5 increase proposed by the good roads federation would not bring these fees up to the level of the Pennsylvania scale.

Two factors enter into the determination of automobile fees and gasoline taxes. They should provide enough revenue to carry on the state's highway construction and maintenance program, but should not be so burdensome as to discourage automobile ownership and touring.

What Others Say

THE REAL OBSTACLE

In its desperate quest after fresh American investment capital, the Soviet government is about to resort to a "liberalized" policy in the matter of foreign concessions. While the Kremlin rulers are aware that in a financial sense the United States is Russia's best bet, the unpleasant fact remains that Americans hold only 14 of the 97 concessions thus far granted to foreigners.

It is this unsatisfactory situation that the manipulators of the concessions game at Moscow are setting out to correct. But time alone can tell whether the sole remedy as they seem to believe, lies in the removal of some of the technical difficulties which recently have kept American capital from flowing into Russia. The obstacles have been many, and varied, most of them inherent in the stupid and impracticable Soviet system, and the wonder is, not that so few concessions have been obtained by American enterprise, but that any at all have been accepted.

To fling good American dollars into a country where foreign investments have no assured permanency, where the profits, if any, are ever in danger of being appropriated by an impoverished public treasury, and where foreign concessionaires are placed at the mercy of a demoralized proletariat, is a waste of time and energy, let alone the money, which can be useful elsewhere, and not least so at home.

But presumably a far greater impediment to closer relations between American capital and Russia consists in the essential crookedness and bad faith of Soviet dealings with outsiders, in things political as well as financial. What Moscow needs to "liberalize" is its entire sense of international decency, as otherwise, no matter how truly attractive Russia may be for foreign investment, capital is likely to remain cautious — Detroit Free Press.

"MIDDLE-AGED" CHILD NEEDS SPECIAL FOOD

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

In the dining car on the train on which I am writing this, I just saw a young mother and her two babies. They were about two and a half and one and a half years old.

A man goes into the diner and grows in his particular waiter and the dining car steward do not give him exclusive attention. If there is the slightest delay, he calls on another waiter or two for an extra spoon or more cream for his berries.

It made me ashamed of my selfish sex as I observed this charming mother. She was calm, alert, self-reliant, efficient. Forgetful of self and her own needs, she made certain that the baby on her lap and the tiny youngster in a chair beside her had all the food they needed. She was watchful that they didn't upset the water carriage or the cream pitcher. Between times she took what seemed to me hardly enough food for her own requirements.

Whenever I get upset about the world and what is to become of it I am glad to meet a young mother. Her conduct sets me straight at once. So long as we have mothers in the world we need not worry about the progress of the race. Goodness and unselfish service and loving kindness never can die while motherhood survives.

Public education is at the foundation of the political, religious, social and physical welfare of the race. Great responsibilities rest on all leaders of thought and teachers of knowledge. Proper instruction must be given or disaster is certain.

I thought of this in the diner just now. I saw this conscientious mother feeding her babies. She was giving these children sufficient quantity of what she has been taught to believe will best meet their needs. Threat of bribery could not induce her to yield one iota from doing for them what she has been taught is for their good.

Sometime soon I shall discuss the sort of feeding children of this age should have. Perhaps we say too much about infant feeding, too much about the children of school age.

Let me put it another way: Perhaps we neglect the child of pre-school age. The infants and school children must be given every attention—and they are. But I am reminded this morning that the in-between group requires more attention.

The "balanced meal" for the child between two and four or five is just as important as it is for the older child. But somehow we talk less about it. By reason of proper education of the public, infant mortality has come down amazingly. Now it is time to consider the next older group.

Unless we give the pre-school child the body building foods in abundance, instead of an excessive quantity of cereals, we will be promoting fatness rather than sturdiness. I'll tell you about this another time.

God bless the mothers for their tender care.

Answers to Health Queries
E. C. Q.—Should a breast-fed baby be given plain boiled water or should something be added, such as camomile, kimmel, barley, etc?

2—Would the addition of sugar be advisable?

3—What mild laxative do you recommend for a month-old baby?

A—Plain water.

2—Not unless it is required.

3—If the mother eats the right kind of food, the little one should not need a laxative. If it is necessary, give glycerin suppositories or warm water and soap injections. For other information send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

W. V. Q.—What remedy do you advise for pimples?

A—First correct the diet by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee. Eat simple food. Avoid poor elimination. For further particulars send self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

SLEEPY HOLLOW BLANKETS

To be held for Three Days

Thursday, Friday and Saturday
September 27, 28 and 29

OUTSTANDING because it is an annual event that affords hundreds of women of this community a once-a-year opportunity to save a substantial sum on a winter necessity. When King Winter whistles his chilly tune under the eaves and the clapboards snap at the sting of his breath, SLEEPY HOLLOW Blankets will prove their worth as warm, comfortable and serviceable coverings.

SLEEPY HOLLOW Blankets are health protectors for the whole family, and at the same time a genuine economy. An economy at no risk of reduced quality, for SLEEPY HOLLOW Blankets represent quality unexcelled. Just as you prepare for winter, we have faithfully prepared for this event, amassing a collection of the finest blankets possible, and offering them to you—

At The Lowest Prices Consistent with Sleepy Hollow Quality

The Secret of Sleepy Hollow Warmth

TO the warm wool-like qualities of China grown cotton, SLEEPY HOLLOW Blankets owe their warmth giving and heat retaining qualities. China cotton has a twisted or curled fibre like wool, and when woven into a blanket and properly napped, has air cells, identical with those of a wool blanket, which keep out the cold and hold in the body heat. Because of the lesser price of China cotton, these blankets are sold at a much lower price than wool blankets.

A winter's bedtime comfort at such a reasonable cost as is represented by the prices in this sale is very unusual, in fact, this happens only once each year, and then it is in this same annual, country wide, three day sale.

acceptance, let us see what he said about the last seven years:

"The record of these seven and a half years constitutes a period of rare courage and leadership and constructive action. Never has a political party been able to look back upon a similar period with more satisfaction."

"That is what he said. Does he actually want the American people to believe that this record means moral courage or constructive leadership?"

"Does Mr. Hoover want the American people to believe that he really looks back over that record with satisfaction?"

"Now, it won't do for them to pass that on to the chairman of the national Republican committee. Hoover is the only man who can answer that."

Continues Attack

"I believe it would be exceedingly harmful to the country; exceedingly harmful to the morals of the youth of the country, in the face of that record the American people on the 6th of November were to put the stamp of their approval upon it."

Governor Smith's program today called for a long journey through Montana eastward, with stops at Butte, Bozeman, Livingston, and Billings. ### RULING MAY BAR GULF PORTS AS EXPORT OUTLET

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 25.—Future use of the gulf ports of New Orleans, Galveston, Houston and Port Arthur as natural export outlets for grain accumulated in Kansas City from a territory comprising part of the Kansas wheat belt may be eliminated through a rate ruling handed down by the interstate commerce commission here recently.

The action of the interstate commerce commission is being characterized by grain men as the most disturbing freight rate decision made by the commission in many years.

The order discontinues the transit privilege on grain moving to or through the Kansas City market on shipment to the gulf originating south of the main line of the Santa Fe railroad, on a line through Newton, Hutchinson, Dodge City, and Garden City.

Tangled Situation

This tangled freight rate situation in the southwest is causing much concern among the farmers and grain men in this territory for the principal reason that it deprives growers of an export market, which is most important in the balancing of prices.

Carriers and shippers are now making plans to enter a vigorous protest against the ruling to the commission. It is expected representatives of several railroads affected by the ruling will go to Washington to seek a rehearing of the case.

Rate experts recall that the first movement to cancel the transit privilege here was started more than 20 years ago, the principal opposition being from Wichita, Kan., Hutchinson, Kan., and interior points within proximity of those markets.

Blow to Farmer

It was contended Kansas City was favored unduly by rate schedules which permitted wheat to be shipped from Southern Kansas into this market and then reshipped to gulf ports for export.

If the transit privilege is cancelled it will lower the price basis in this market on export bids the reduction being a direct blow to the Kansas farmer who will receive less money for his wheat was the opinion of the local board of trade.

THREE ARE DEAD IN AUTO CRASH

Driver Fails to See Train Approaching At N.Y.C. Crossing

Ashtabula, O., Sept. 25.—Three people were killed, and a fourth probably fatally injured, at noon today when an automobile was demolished by a New York Central passenger train at Kingsville, five miles east of here.

The dead are: Mrs. C. H. Lockwood, 27, of Kingsville; her son, Victor, 5; and Friend Hatch, 55, of Waterford, Pa. Mrs. Lockwood's three year old daughter, Vivian, who was also in the car, was taken to a hospital with injuries from which she is not expected to recover.

The cause of the tragedy could not be learned immediately afterwards. The driver of the machine was apparently unaware of the approach of the train or warning signals, according to observers. Hatch was visiting the Lockwood family at the home in Kingsville.

attorney general by both President Coolidge and his attorney general, Mr. Sargent. United States Senator Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey, a Democrat, declared in a scorching statement made public today:

"She should be driven from office," said Senator Edwards who accused the woman dry prosecutor of fostering bigotry and breaking her oath of office.

Mrs. Willebrandt is now in Ohio engaged in making a series of anti-Smith political speeches.

Senator Edwards said that Mrs. Willebrandt's address last Sunday night before the Northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church "is a disgrace to the department of which she is a part."

"If the department of justice is not a mockery of the very thing for which it was instituted—fairness and justice to all men—Mrs. Willebrandt should be driven from office so that she might spread her poisonous anti-Smith propaganda unsupported by the present Republican administration."

Edwards accused Mrs. Willebrandt, the Anti-Saloon League "and the intolerant elements to which she is appealing for aid and support of the Hoover ticket" of starting the "whispering campaign" which Gov. Al Smith recently denounced in a speech at Oklahoma City. He said the country was flooded months ago with "venomous and untrue pamphlets attacking Gov. Smith's character" and that they were "red and black and intelligent of the lowest stripe."

Too, China—Boys of the American Asiatic fleet are just fed up on peanuts. After a few days here they just run when they see a vendor on the horizon. For five cents one can buy enough to fill his pockets and then some. This is the place whence the heavy Shantung production is shipped to the U. S. A.

State Concrete Pouring Work Set On Columbiana Co. Road

A new state record for the construction of smooth concrete highways was established by Mellert & Weidner of Medina in the pouring of seven miles of the East Liverpool-Youngstown rd. it has just been disclosed.

The State Highway department has completed its "profilometer" report on this road from the top of the Williamsport hill to a point north of Rogers, which is the section recently finished by the Mellert & Weidner interests. This graph shows that four bumps or depressions over one-quarter inch in any ten feet, these four bumps of five-sixteenth inch each are all on the Williamsport hill just south of the West Fork bridge spanning Beaver creek.

A "profilometer" is a machine that registers on a graph the depressions or bumps as they actually occur on a road, only magnified. It is what the name implies, a measure or record of the profile.

This same contracting interest has completed the pouring of concrete on that section of the East Liverpool-Youngstown rd. between Middleton and Cox highway. This section of road will be open to traffic on or about Oct. 14.

The Allison-Harris Co., of East Liverpool have poured slightly over 50 per cent of the Dresden ave. section of this road in Liverpool township and should weather permit, the last concrete should be poured on this section not later than Saturday, it has been explained by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk. The opening of the Middleton-Cox highway section and the Dresden ave. section will then give through traffic north and south between East Liverpool and Youngstown over this new route.

Lewis & Copeland of Lima, have passed the three mile point in the pouring of concrete on the East Palestine-East Liverpool rd. Only one and three-quarter miles remain to be poured. The concrete is now being poured on the Acher hill section. The contractors on this section of road are pouring concrete at the rate of one mile in from eight to nine working days.

By the end of the week, it is believed that the Allison-Harris Co., of East Liverpool will have all the bridges and culverts completed on the Rogers-Negley rd. These are being built by H. C. Armstrong of Lisbon as sub-contractor. By Oct. 15, it is said the contractors will have all of the rough grading completed on this project. There will be no paving done on this new road until the spring of 1935.

At Salineville, Raymond Moore has completed all of the new concrete bridge on Main st., with the exception of laying the brick top wearing surface, and the concrete railing. The brick top will be dropped this week, and the bridge is expected to be open to traffic within the next three weeks.

NOTICE: On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted for by any one other than myself.

WOMAN OFFICIAL RAPS TAMMANY

Lauds Hoover As Leader Of Economy During World War

Warren, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt today had apparently shifted her barrage from Gov. Al Smith's views on prohibition to train her oratorical fire on his Tammany connections.

In a speech before the Westminster Men's club, a Presbyterian laymen's organization here last night, she asserted that Governor Smith has "used the forces of Tammany and the underworld as stepping stones, with the inevitable political obligations thereby imposed."

She ridiculed the idea that the Democratic nominee has reformed Tammany and made it something more than "the seat of graft and corruption," that it formerly was.

"Of course, Tammany's governor might be equal to the task of reforming Tammany," she said. "But I want to say far above a whisper that I doubt it."

The woman assistant attorney general of the United States again had a packed auditorium as her audience. She said she would go to Chicago today to speak at a Republican conference.

Though devoting most of her talk last night to attacking Smith as a member of Tammany hall, she also again brought up the prohibition issue.

"Food won't win the war," she said. "But it meant getting loyalty and co-operation from every kitchen. A great administrator in whom all had confidence did that."

"This same administrator can instill confidence in the constitution and give new meaning to law observance."

"Do you remember meatless days? So, too, we can have cocktail-less parties."

The open road

SUPPOSE you came suddenly upon two roads. One straight, well-trodden — the other thin and twisting off into undergrowth. If you didn't want to arrive at any place in particular, you might choose the latter. But not otherwise.

Before you, as buyer, run two roads. One is the road of knowledge of an advertised product. Thousands use it. There's no mystery about it, no doubting, nothing hidden. It leads the way definitely to a fountain pen, a floor wax, a tooth-paste that will give you satisfaction. When you use an advertisement, you use an open road.

When you don't use advertisements, you go the doubtful road. You have only hazy knowledge of the product ahead. No trade-mark or name to depend upon guides you. The result may or may not be worth the effort. You don't know.

Read the advertisements. Anything widely advertised—breakfast food, hammer, hair tonic — has proved itself good by advertising.

Althouse Studebaker Grid Team Swings Into Action Sunday

Nusbaum Jewelers of Canton Will Furnish Opposition In Opener

The Althouse Studebakers of Salem, strengthened by the combination of the best football talent of Sebring will open its grid season Sunday against the Nusbaum Jewelers of Canton.

The game will be played at Sebring, where all home games of the team will be played until the new athletic field now being built by E. H. Althouse, Salem backer of the team, is finished. After the new field is completed this field will be considered as the team's home field.

First practice of the combined outfit was held at the Althouse field Sunday afternoon with 30 griders from the two cities turning out. With proper organization and regular practice the team should develop into one of the best ever placed in the semi-pro field in this district.

Hopes for a winning aggregation were boosted by the appearance of Tving Seeds, veteran of gridiron warfare with several leading professional teams in the state including the Canton Bulldogs and Toronto Tigers. Seeds saw service in college grid togs under Sam Willaman at Iowa State and under John Wilce at Ohio State, later entering pro football.

The second practice will be held at the Memorial building at 7:30 tonight, Manager Joe M. Kelley announced today. Orders have been issued to every player for the team that practices will be held at least three nights a week. Eddie Howells is taking care of the Sebring end of supervision of the team.

Schedule Best Teams
Every effort is being put forth by the managers and Althouse to turn out a winning team and plans are being made to schedule games with leading sandlot teams in Ohio. Roger Jewellers of Canton, Sandusky Maroons, Alliance Fairmount Bulls, Akron South Awnings, and Lorain Ex-Highs are being approached for games.

The tentative lineup for Sunday's game will probably be chosen after tonight's workout, according to the plans of Howells and Kelley. Carleton Mefert, of Carnegie Tech fame, mentioned for all-American honors while end on Wally Steffen's famous machine in 1925, when Tech upset the dope and annihilated Notre Dame, will captain and coach the team, and be shifted from end to the backfield due to his ball-carrying ability. Frank Hogue, Sebring, former Canton Bulldog and teammate of Seeds at Toronto will be at fullback, with Pete Sartick, a Salem at quarter, and Seeds at the other half.

Mills and Corso Tackles
On the line, Joe Mills, former Akron Indian, when that team was rated among the best in the country, and Joe Corso, bulky Salem veteran, will play at opposite tackles. Cecil Scullion, speedy star who has played at halfback and end during his short football career, is planning to play center this year and given the best chance for that place. Raymond May, of Sebring will probably be shifted to a guard position.

Ralston "Bus" Jones, former Kenyon college end, is given the edge for one of the wing posts. Frances Simonds, former Salem High player is after a guard or tackle position.
Several players are expected from Alliance, Columbiana and Leontina at tonight's session. In the list of prospectives from Sebring are Brimlow, Hazel, Hahnen, Shuster, Nigel, Baumgartner, and Palmero.

Miami and Defiance All Set for Opener

Oxford, Sept. 25.—Miami university's 58 football aspirants are improving daily in condition, and it is now the fond hope of the coaching staff that they will have a team that will duplicate or better the record of the 1927 eleven. In addition to the score of lettermen 28 Sophomores who are to be considered. Twelve of these boys are considered outstanding performers by Coach Pittner, and will probably see some service as varsity men this year.

Defiance, Sept. 25.—Coach Bub Wilson has practically picked the team which he will send against Miami university at Oxford Saturday. Many of last year's reserves and new men are in the lineup. One thing about the Defiance team is certain—Geer and Donley are a pair of ends who can snag passes to perfection.

Bajan Perfects Pass Defense at Dayton U

Dayton, Sept. 25.—University of Dayton's one big fault, a forward pass defense, is being eliminated by Coaches Baujan and Fitzpatrick, with what success will be demonstrated Saturday when Findlay college plays here. The flyers have been known as a passing team for years, with its light backfields and bullet-like aeriels. The backfield will average 5 ft. 11 inches in height and all of the centers on forward pass defense are over the six foot mark.

Fight Results

At New York—Tommy Grogan, Omaha lightweight, won decision over Sammy White, New York (10).
George Deschner, Union City, N. J., won from K. O. Phil Kaplan on foul (4).
Dominick Petrone, New York featherweight, won decision over Sammy Chernoff, also of New York (6).
At Fall River, Mass.—Benny Carter, Mexican fighter, scored technical knockout over Frankie Dundee, Lawrence, Mass. (4).
At Troy, N. Y.—Nick Testa, of Troy, stopped Eddie Dempsey, of Philadelphia (10).
Arturo Sheekels, of Belgium, outpointed Joe Trippie, of Rochester, N. Y. (6).
At Lynn, Mass.—Jack Britton, former welterweight champion defeated Mickey Sears, Boston. (10).

Two Valiant Stanford Warriors

Glenn (Pop) Warner (left), head coach of Stanford University, and Biff Hoffman, potential all-American halfback, photographed together at start of football training season.

Wittenberg Hopes For Championship Again This Season

Springfield, Sept. 25.—Wittenberg's hopes for a team that will be better than the 1927 championship team seems to be more of a fact than a theory. Saturday, Coach Godfrey sent his varsity against the frosh team, scoring three touchdowns without trouble.

Big Bill Edwards seems assured of a varsity berth at tackle, while Harre looks good at the other side. Ramage, Annis, and Beuschling are promising guards.
• Georgetown will come here to play Saturday, and it is common belief that the Lutherans will have no trouble in trouncing them.

Harsh and Rush May Start Against W.-J.

Bethany, W. Va., Sept. 25.—Bethany college, with a 24-6 win over Broadus Saturday, is facing a hard game Saturday, when they play Washington & Jefferson at Washington. Two teams were placed into action in last week's game by Coach Nuss in an effort to weave out the leading varsity prospects, with the result that Walter "Pete" Harsh, 140 pound Salem half back and Malcolm Rush, also of Salem, a letterman last year, will probably appear in the starting lineup against W. & J.

Oberlin Will Open Heidelberg Season

Tiffin, Sept. 25.—With Otto Vokaty back in the fold as first string fullback, Heidelberg's prospects have brightened and the boys are rearing to go against Oberlin Saturday on the latter's field.
The scramble for backfield berths has not yet been decided, but selections will be ironed out this week.

Yanks and Athletics Lose Tilts

New York, Sept. 25.—Thursday will either make or break New York's two pennant contenders. On that day the Yankees play two games with Detroit, a strong out fit at present; and the Giants face a doubleheader with Chicago, the only club that has gotten better than an even break against them this season.

The Yankee-Athletic Alphonse and Gaston act continues, with both teams trying to hand each other the pennant. New York's 4 to 3 defeat yesterday by Cleveland, a team that had lost 15 of its last 16 games, was the Yank's fourth setback in nine starts in the west.

Babe Ruth's game leg prevented him from catching Luke Sewell's fly and the winning run came in. Southpaw Walter Miller, who had also beaten the A's, held the Yanks to five hits while the Indians nicked Pipgras and Heimach for 11.

But the Athletics ran afoul of General Alvin Crowder, the league's leading pitcher, lost a 6 to 2 decision and remain two games behind.

Crowder yielded only four hits and chalked up his 20th victory. Jack Quinn was no puzzle to the Browns.
George Goslin's three hits beat the White Sox 8 to 4, and enabled the Washington slugger to regain the league batting leadership from Manush of St. Louis.

Two homers by O'Doul, one by Ott and finally Jackson's four-bagger with two on base accounted for all of New York's runs as the inspired Giants nosed out Cincinnati, 7 to 4. Benton was hit hard but romped home with his 25th victory, tying Burleigh Grimes, of Pittsburgh.

Jumbo Jim Elliott was easy for St. Louis and the Cardinals maintained their one-game lead by trouncing Brooklyn again, 9 to 2. Old Pete Alexander toyed with the Dodgers and Bottomley hit his 31st homer, taking the league leadership away from Hack Wilson of the Cubs.

The Cubs hung on to that mathematical chance of outslugging the Phillies, 7 to 6.
Boston will be no set-up for St. Louis later in the week. The Braves who split a double bill with Pittsburgh yesterday, have won five out of ten from the western clubs in their last home stand.

Pennant Races In Tabloid

The Yankees can clinch the American League pennant by winning four of their six remaining games. If they win only three out of six, the Athletics must make a clean sweep of their five remaining contests to capture the flag. Both teams lost yesterday and New York remained two games in the lead.

Explosives Cause Loss of Eye; Hand

Wilmington, Sept. 25.—Delbert Taylor, 12, today had lost the sight of his left eye with the possibility that his right eye will be similarly affected, and Harold Croesley, 14, had lost his left hand, aftermath of an explosion which occurred when the boys used dynamite caps as toys.
The caps exploded when Taylor struck a cap with a piece of metal. Besides losing his left hand, Croesley suffered severe powder burns.

Cardinals To Face Dazzy Vance Today

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Sept. 25.—It is barely possible that the big break in the National League stretch run between the Cardinals and Giants will come before tonight today. The Giants, one game off the pace with only six to play, figure to have nothing to beat in the buyer's sample of Cincinnati pitching still to be exposed to public gaze. The Cardinals, having used Haines and Alexander to win two games from the Dodgers, are down to a choice between a kid and a couple of veteran left handers who wouldn't feel particularly irritated if McKeebie discovered at this juncture that he simply didn't know them from a couple of other fellows.

The Dodgers, meantime have declared for Vance as today's pitcher, meaning that Vance has decided to declare for Vance. Dazzy has a manager over there, but the understanding is that he doesn't use him very much. He couldn't very well lock this one over from the bench, however, after pitching the Cubs out of the money last Friday. So the word is that the young man will so far forget himself as to go out there and pitch the ball game and the Cards say they are glad of it. He can't get them out most of the time.
However, this lad can pitch a quantity of baseball when the fancy moves him and this may be one of his days.

Athletics Status
As for Philadelphia Athletics, if they blow the American League title—and no one can claim that they aren't giving the matter a good, same try—they may be able to find the answer either in their accommodating spirit or in the fact that they played only 153 games in a 154-game season or in both. The Athletics, it has been thus for a month or more.
The other half of the proposed subway series may or may not be closer to its goal line by tonight.

but no one can say that the chances are only nominal. The probably will take the leg chain of Fred Fitzsimmons this afternoon, and while Frederick was no risk with the Cardinals on Saturday, he is a 20-game winner and ought to have something on the Reds, who have almost no pitchers and use both of them Sunday and yesterday.

Pitcher Not Named
All in all, the Giants may find themselves with the whole world front of them today. McKeebie had been undecided as to whether he would pitch Mitchell, Sherder or Frankhouse. But finally he understood to have voted for Sherder. Mitchell pitched less than five innings on Saturday but his elder bleep, to use the possessive singular or something, probably needed more rest. Sherder pitched a game and a half in 48 hours at the Polo grounds and shouldn't be right to day. But it was a choice between experience and youth and form always gets the nod in a spot like this.

Speaking about the 153-game schedule of the Athletics, it will be impossible to play off their postponed game with the Red Sox, a both will be in the west tomorrow the only open date on the schedule. They did have an opening on September 13 last but the Athletics decided to go through with an exhibition in Albany. Maybe they will regret it; maybe they won't.

Miss Buddie McCalby Is Star In Jazztime Revue At Grand

MISS BUDDIE MCCALBY

Featuring Miss Buddie McCalby, a blues singer of extraordinary tepping and singing ability, A. C. Hall's Jazztime Revue presented enjoyable entertainment at the Grand Monday night, in a farce comedy play entitled "The Janitor." The Revue presented good comedy together with a fine dancing and singing chorus accompanied by musical music, interwoven into the happy story of the play.

"Tenna and Virginia" a clever duo, contributed good singing and dancing acts. Pop Reil and Jimmy Marshall proved good pieces of comedy. Prominent in the feminine chorus were Wilson De Heiter, youthful juvenile with a ear voice of great volume, and live Reil.

"The Janitor" will be repeated tonight, a change of program being effected in the entire evening's performance Wednesday and Friday. A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2:30, and a midnight performance either Friday or Saturday night.

"The Adventurer," featuring Tim McCoy on the screen is presented with the stage feature.

"THE CARDBOARD LOVER" Monte Carlo, with its throngs of beautiful women, its fascinating scenes and its atmosphere of romance, serves as a background for the comedy situations worked out by the leading comedienne of the scene, Marion Davies. It never has served as the locale of a better picture, and other Monte Carlo pictures have been as common as flies round a sugar bowl.

The romantic story opens with the arrival of a young American girl, as played by Miss Davies, at Monte Carlo with a group of other girls in a Cook's Tour party. The world's gambling capital she meets Nils Asther, a tennis champion, in the midst of an affair with a noted siren, played by Jetta Goudal. Although Asther knows of his mistress' unfaithfulness, he is unable to tear himself away from her.

Sally Baxter, the American girl, pursues the tennis champion for his autograph. In her effort to get his signature she loses ten thousand francs to him at Baccarat. Asther seizes on her indebtedness as an excuse to make her pose as his sweetheart to keep the enchantress at a distance until he can free himself of her hold on him.

With such a situation, and Miss Davies in the star part, complications naturally come thick and fast. The film moves rapidly as first one woman and then the other gains a temporary advantage over the other. A most amusing battle of wits results.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Early Fall Preserving and Pickling

Housekeepers who have homes with real kitchens are still interested in doing up preserves and pickles. The need is not as urgent as in past years, yet there are a lot of good things we cannot get in the shops. Many of the dainties are made from old family recipes and the owners feel that their stock of good things are not complete without some of them are added. Some of the following are from the treasured collection of an old New England housewife.

Damson Cheese

The small damson plums are superior to all others in flavor for preserve use. Wash and remove the stems from a four-pound basket of the plums. Put the plums in a large crock and set in the even, covering closely, to melt and cook tender in their own juice. When tender cool, remove the stones and rub through a colander. Measure the pulp and add three-quarters of a pint of sugar for a pint of pulp. Return to the crock and cook until boiled down rich and thick, stirring carefully so that the heavy mass does not burn. Fill warm dry jam pots with the cheese, place a cracked kernel on top of each jar, and when cold cover down, label, and store in a cool, dry place.

Lemon Marmalade

Wash four dozen lemons and place them in a preserving kettle, cover with cold water and boil them for two hours, very gently, changing the water three times during the cooking. Drain, cool and slice thinly removing all pips. Weigh, and to each pound allow two pounds of sugar and one pint of the last water in which the lemons were boiled. Boil the sugar and water together until a light syrup is formed, then add the lemons. Boil until a little tried on a cold plate will jelly. Fill jam pots and when cold cover down with paper brushed over on either side with the white of egg. Store in cool dry place.

Tomato Marmalade

Blanch and peel seven pounds of ripe tomatoes and cut them in halves. Slice thinly and remove the pips of six lemons. Melt eight pounds of sugar in a pint of boiling water and boil to a light syrup. Add the lemons and the tomatoes, cook gently and skim well, stirring frequently. When a little tried on a cold plate jells rather thickly, remove from the fire and fill dry hot jam pots. Cover, seal, label and store in dry, cool place.

Pickled Spanish Onions

Peel and slice thin six Spanish onions. Sprinkle each layer with salt and a little cayenne pepper. Pack in a large mouthed jar and when filled cover with vinegar, seal, to exclude all air, with paper wet on either side with white of egg. The pickle will be ready for use in ten days.

Baked Pickled Peaches

Select seven pounds of ripe, good-flavored free stone peaches and wipe the fuzz off with a linen towel. Pack the fruit in a stone crock. Make a syrup of five pounds of sugar and a pint of vinegar, adding a cupful of broken cinnamon and a teaspoonful of whole cloves. Pour the syrup over the peaches and bake in a medium oven for an hour, covering the crock with a plate. When done remove from the oven without removing the plate and store in a cool place. The peaches will be ready for use in two weeks.

EASY TO MAKE FROCKS

The frocks illustrated have been designed so that even an inexperienced dressmaker will have no difficulty with the cutting, sewing or fitting. The little girl's frock, made with matching bloomers, falls straight from the shoulders in wide pleats. The scalloped collar and a touch of embroidery on the section which has been inserted at one side are the only decorative touches. Voile, rayon or chambray may be used.

The house frock at the right is especially designed for the woman of larger hips. Long lines contribute slenderness. The front and back are cut in from the underarm edges and the lower edges are gathered. Checked and plain gingham or linen may be used.
